THE GAS-WELLS OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO. [Correspondence of the Cleveland Leader.] East Liverpool is beautifully situated. about fifty miles above Wheeling, on the banks of the Obio, in the southwestern part of Columbiana county, one hundred miles from Cleveland and forty miles from Pittsburgh.

Its natural gas-wells form one of the seven wonders of the world. They are sitnated in and around the city, and give it a continual supply of the finest light. The gas is almost as free as the air. It costs practically nothing, and forms the illuminator and heater of the town. The city is lighted by it, and the street-lamps blaze away at noonday as well as at midnight. It costs nothing to let them burn, and it takes trouble to put them out.

Almost the entire fuel used in the town is this gas. It is conducted into the grates and stoves in pipes, and by it all the cooking and heating is done. It does the business; makes no dirt; is easy to kindle, and costs very little. Why, for instance, the Dobbins House, where I am now writing, is a three-story brick, containing in the neighborhood of fifty rooms and a basement. Its light and fael for the whole house is composed of gas, and costs only $14 per month the year round; and its light is not the flickering mockery of poorly-manufactured gas, but a flame which approximates in its brilliancy that of the electrie light.

But the question is, how long will this last? Will these wells continue to send forth their streams of light-giving power throughout the centuries, or will they die away in the course of a short time? This, of course, no one can tell. The prospects in its brilliancy, and none of those now in rich supply that was wasting away daily under its very feet. The poor quality of experiment with and open the first gas-well in this vicinity. A well was dug, being every day for over twenty years.

in an open grate playing through a burning iron log, made in the imitation of wood, or over lumps of coke or red-hot fire-brick, it has all the cheerfulness of an open coal fire or an old-fashioned country fire-place, with none of its dirtiness.

Hydrophobia. HORRIBLE EXPERIENCES OF A YOUNG MAN AT SMITHLAND, IND.

[Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.]

SHELBYVILLE, IND., September 20 .- Intense excitement prevailed last night and to-day in the vicinity of Smithland, this county, over a case of hydrophobia. A young man by the name of "Boss" Pyles was employed in doing farm work yester-day, and in the evening complained of feeling unwell. He grew worse and worse, and about 9 o'clock he began vomiting, and his sickness developed into what was pronounced hydrophobia. A crowd soon where he would be safe from doing harm. "Washboard" Hale. [Milwaukee Sun.] We see by the Jefferson county papers that "Washboard" Hale died in the poorhouse recently. He was a character. For thirty years he had lived in that vicinity on a washboard, as may be said. He made a few washboards, and he would take one under his arm and go to a farm-house and allow the wife to use it. If she bought it, all right-and if not, it was all the same. He would have a dozen washboards scattered around, and he was always the guest of the house, got his meals, moved his washboard to unother locality, and ate and drank on the board. He always managed to arrive at a house about meal-time, and as he had all the news to tell he was welcome. If a housewife had wood to split, a cow to milk, or the man had steers to break, hogs to kill, or a wagon to grease, old Hale was ready to help. At times when the good housewife had not much in the house for dinner the arrival of Washboard Hale would cause a cloud to rest upon her brow, but a cheerful word from him would soon dispel it, and we do not believe he ever went hungry a day in his life. He was a tramp, always on the move, in summer with his coat over his arm, and in winter bundled up and always on the march. However hard up be might be, he could manage to get zinc enough for a washboard, and any friendly carpenter would allow him to do the wood-work in was on the road. In all his thirty years' travel about Jefferson county no one ever heard him use an unkind word, and he never injured a soul. Children would chaff him use an opportunity to be of his shop, and his stock being complete, he assistance to them, after which they were his friends. He would make a kite for them or draw them miles on a sled for the asking. He was a great character, and will

A Good Example.—One of the stories told of Molière's time is of a preacher who, having to celebrate a certain saint's day, delivered the following sermon: "My broth-gen, it is to-day the feast of St. —. Then art not fairer than the roses were When I have seen with undisturbed breast The wither'd victims of the frosty year Or May-buds ravish'd from their leafy nest. What spell is thine, that thou shoulds't strike my heart
With anguish for a fate thou cans't not feel?
Is if a living soul thou wert, or aught
That pain could burt or sympathy could beal,

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF THE UPPER PORTION OF THE "LITTLE DOVER" ESTATE. IN GOOCHLAND COUNTY. ON JAMES RIVER. TWENTY-THREE MILES ABOVE RICHMOND. CONTAINING FIVE HUNDRED AND SIXTEEN ACRES.—At the request of Mr. Thomas W. McCanee, surviving action executor of the late Miss Ann E. Trent, deceased, I shall offer for sale at public auction, on the premises (intracdiately after the sale of the lower portion (480 acres, more or less), advertised to be sold under decree of Richmond Chancery Court by Messes, John A. Meredith and A. I. Boulware, commissioners, on WEDNESDAY, 25th of September, 1878, at 12 o'clock M. (if fair; if not, on the first fair day thereafter), that portion of the LITTLE DOVER ESTATE, in Goochland county, which was assigned to Miss Ann R. Trent in the division of the estate of her father, Dr. Joseph Trent, deceased (heing the upper part), containing 516 ACRES—of which 98 acres are James-river low-ground- of unsurpassed fertility, 238 acres of excellent high-land, and 190 acres in original growth of oak, suitable for shiptimber or cord-wood, with a few fine trees large enough for mill-shafts. The low-grounds and the high-land are particularly adapted to the prowth of wheat, corn, tobacco, clover, &c. The improvements on the place are limited, but the farm itself is regarded as amongst the most valuable on James river. The canat of the James River and Kanawha Company passes through the farm, so that its products can be cheaply transported to market. The neighborhood is equal to any in the county, Mr. Richard S. Wood, resteing on the form, will show it to those who may call on him. Possession in time to seed wheat, and full possession at the end of the year. PXECUTOR'S SALE OF THE UPPER year.

TERMS: One third cash; balance at one and two years, for bends beging interest half-yearly, secured by a deed of trust; the taxes for 1878 to be paid by the purchaser.

CALE AT AUCTION OF A FIRST-CLASS FARM OF ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIVE ACRES, ON THE HERMITAGE ROAD, ONE AND A HALF MILES FROM THE CORPORATION LINE OF RICHMOND.—At the request of Dr. Martin S. Taylor, I shall sell at auction, without find to reserve, on the premises, on TUESDAY the 17th of September, 1878, at 4 o'clock P. M., his very beautiful and productive FARM, called "EDGEWOOD," located as above, and extending back to the Fredericksburg railroad, on which it has a front of three-fourths of a mile, containing 145 ACRES; of which about 90 acres are cleared and in the heart, balance in wood. The improvements consist of a NEW FRAMED DWELLING, containing seven rooms besides closets, with nortice extending the whole front, and in front of which is a beautiful lawn of about six to eight acres, well set in clover and young shade-trees. There is a splendid well of water in the yard, and front of which is a beautiful lawn of about six to eight acree, well set in clover and young shade-trees. There is a splendid weil of water in the yard, and two springs on the farm.

The view from the dwelting is a most lovely one. The access to it is by a first-rate road. The neighborhood equal to any in the county, and the healthiness of the place proverbial.

The other improvements are such as are needed for the place. There is an excellent and large ICE-HOUSE, and a pond adjoining. From the sale of increast on the estimated value of the farm.

Those who wish to purchase a really desirable farm in sight of Richmoud would do well to attend the sale.

TERMS: One third cash; balance at one and two years, for negotiable notes (interest at six per cent.), Bank AND BANKE AND BAN TERMS: One third cash; balance at one and two years, for negotiable notes (interest at slx per cent.), secured by a deed of trust.
